I hope you can

Mississippi.
OK?

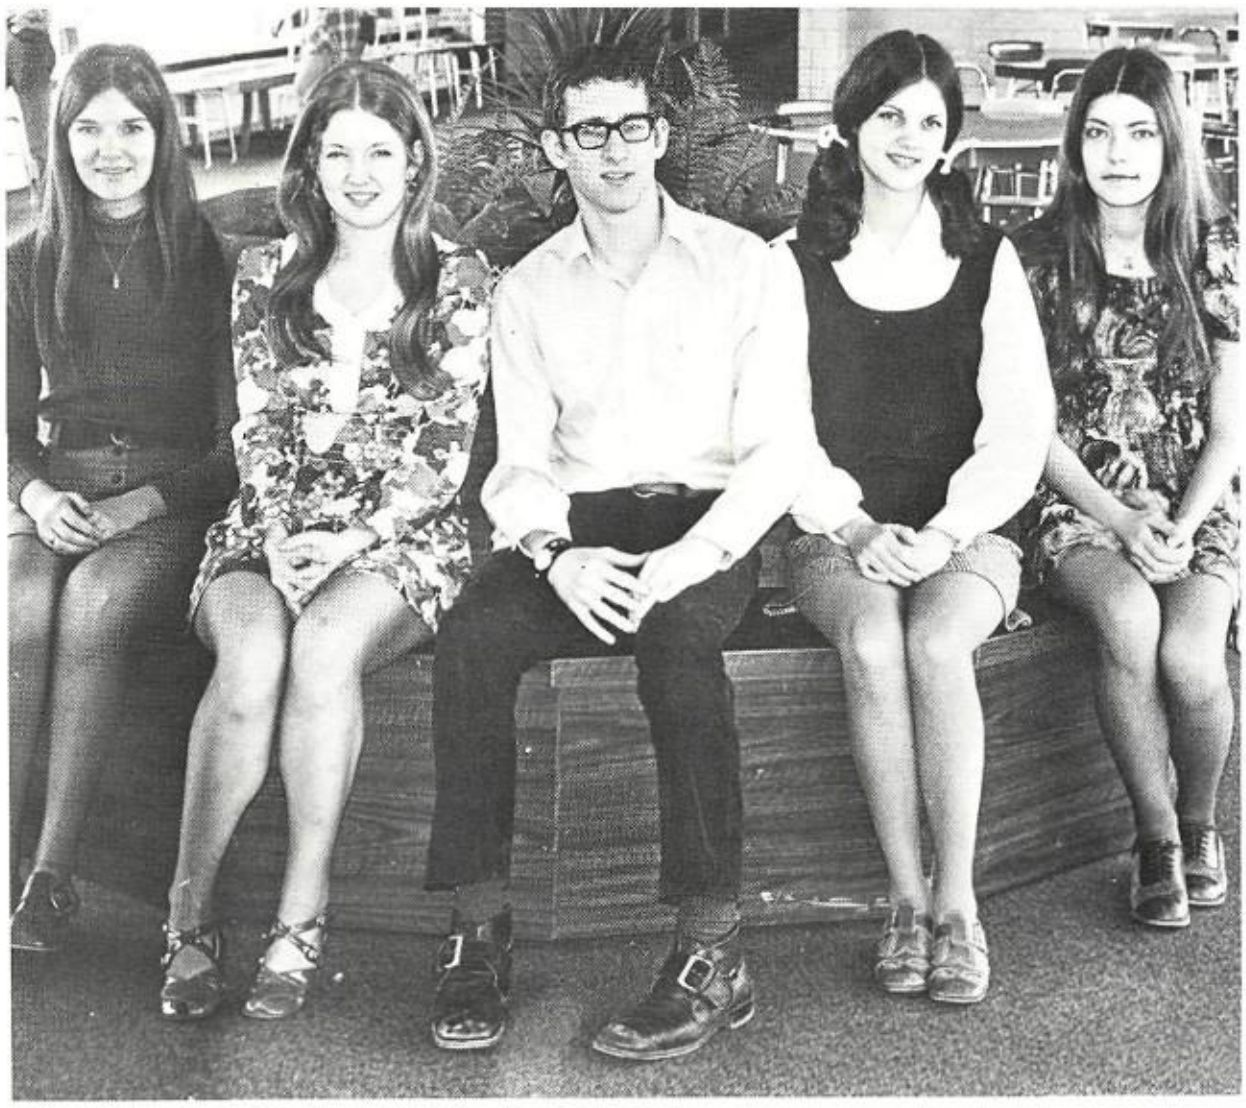
Organizations

Dodger Adopts New

The Dodger Senate, recent descendant of the Student Council, utilized its first year by completely reorganizing the governing body. The number of members was greatly reduced with four seniors, three juniors, three sophomores and 10 faculty members. Sub-committees for cultural and social activities left members free to work on other projects. Another major accomplishment of the Dodger Senate was the changing of the Constitution.



Senate Constitution

Members of the Dodger Senate debate a topic concerning the new constitution during a recent meeting (opposite page, top picture). Members of the hard working social committee are J. Wallukati, V. Thiele, M. Kersten, L. Koenig, and W. Haack (lower right).

Dodger Senate members are: W. Lynch, W. Raker, W. Lehmkuhl, D. Carlson, T. Allen, D. Cook, J. Holtorf, J. Fallon, S. Thomas, L. Sears, M. Kersten, J. Black, P. Linney, R. Peltz, E. Culbertson, D. OE and AV Devote Much Time and Effort

F.T.A. Visits Area Schools

Future Teachers were active this year helping prospective teachers decide whether or not teaching was really the profession for them.

In November the club members visited Iowa Central Community College. In March the junior and senior members were assigned to elementary schools to observe and help teach. This way the members could decide if they could get along with small children. A spring picnic and initiation completed the year's activities. Lucile Gibb and Mary Ann Pederson were the advisors of F.T.A.

Medical Careers Keeps Informed About Medicine

An active and informed club about medicine this year was the Medical Careers Club. Mrs. Bonita Proeschold was the advisor, while the Medical Auxiliary sponsored it.

The activities of the club started with a chili supper initiation. Other important programs of the club included a Christmas program for underprivileged children, a tour of the hospital, and several guest speakers.

Members of the club try to decide what to do for initiation this year (opposite right). Linda Nelson and Becky Robinson decide that initiation isn't all that bad (bottom right).

Officers of the club are Tammy Ayers, Denise Crammer, and Rosemarie Klingston.

Pep Club

Pep Club retained its great membership once again this year. Spirit and enthusiasm ran high as the girls made posters, baked cookies for the athletes, and cheered at every home game. For the first time, Pep Club made the Queen's Float at Homecoming for the Queen and her court. Pep Club was supported by the Pep Band and loyal members. Long hours of hard work were donated by almost every member to make this year's organization the most successful of all.

Elected officers were Vice Pres., Tina Allen, Treasurer, Marianne Woods,

Third row: Deb Woodard, Joy Weigman, Tina Allen, Kim Drollinger and Sue Johnson (opposite, bottom). Connie Anderson gave hours of work to the float (above center).

Language Clubs

The four language clubs have united to work together on many projects this year. They all joined forces to create the award winning float at homecoming. The float, entitled "Eat 'Em Up", took many nights of hard work and fun. They also put on the International Dinner in March. Each club brought foods typical of the country they represented. Then a 10 minute skit was presented by each club. Besides working together each club has accomplished many projects in their own time. An annual Christmas party was sponsored by each language as well as a picnic at the end of the year to initiate new members. By working together and alone at the same time the clubs are trying to symbolize an idea of international harmony among nations and peoples.

Officers of the French club are Laurie Sears, Mary Jo Bock, Tami Tripp, and Tim DuBois (opposite page, top picture). N.H.S. Strives To Be Active

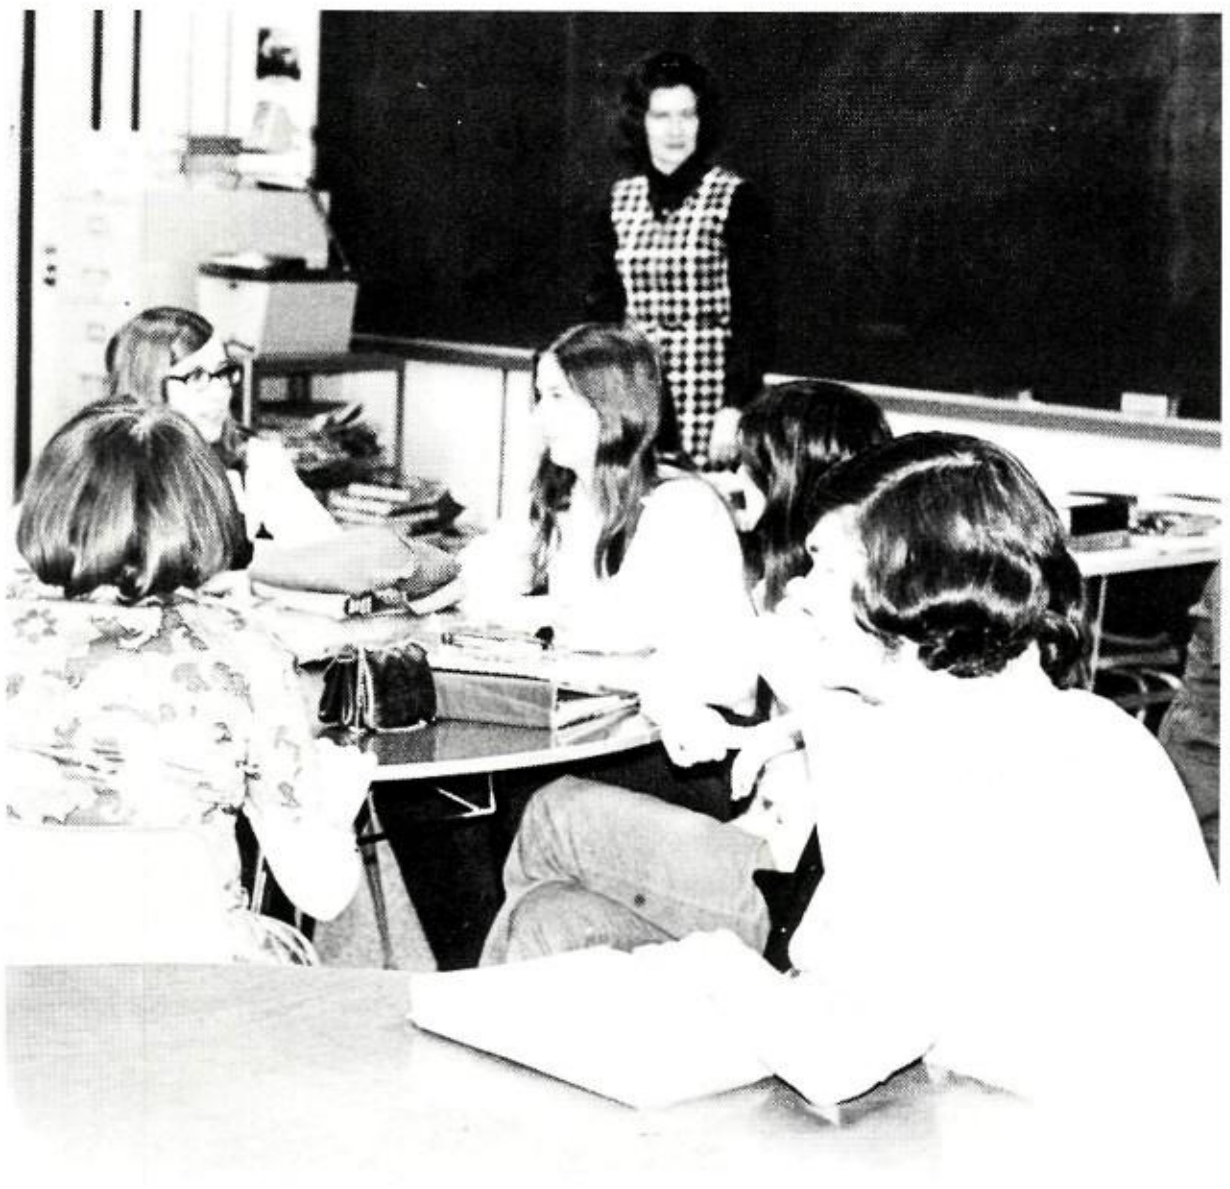
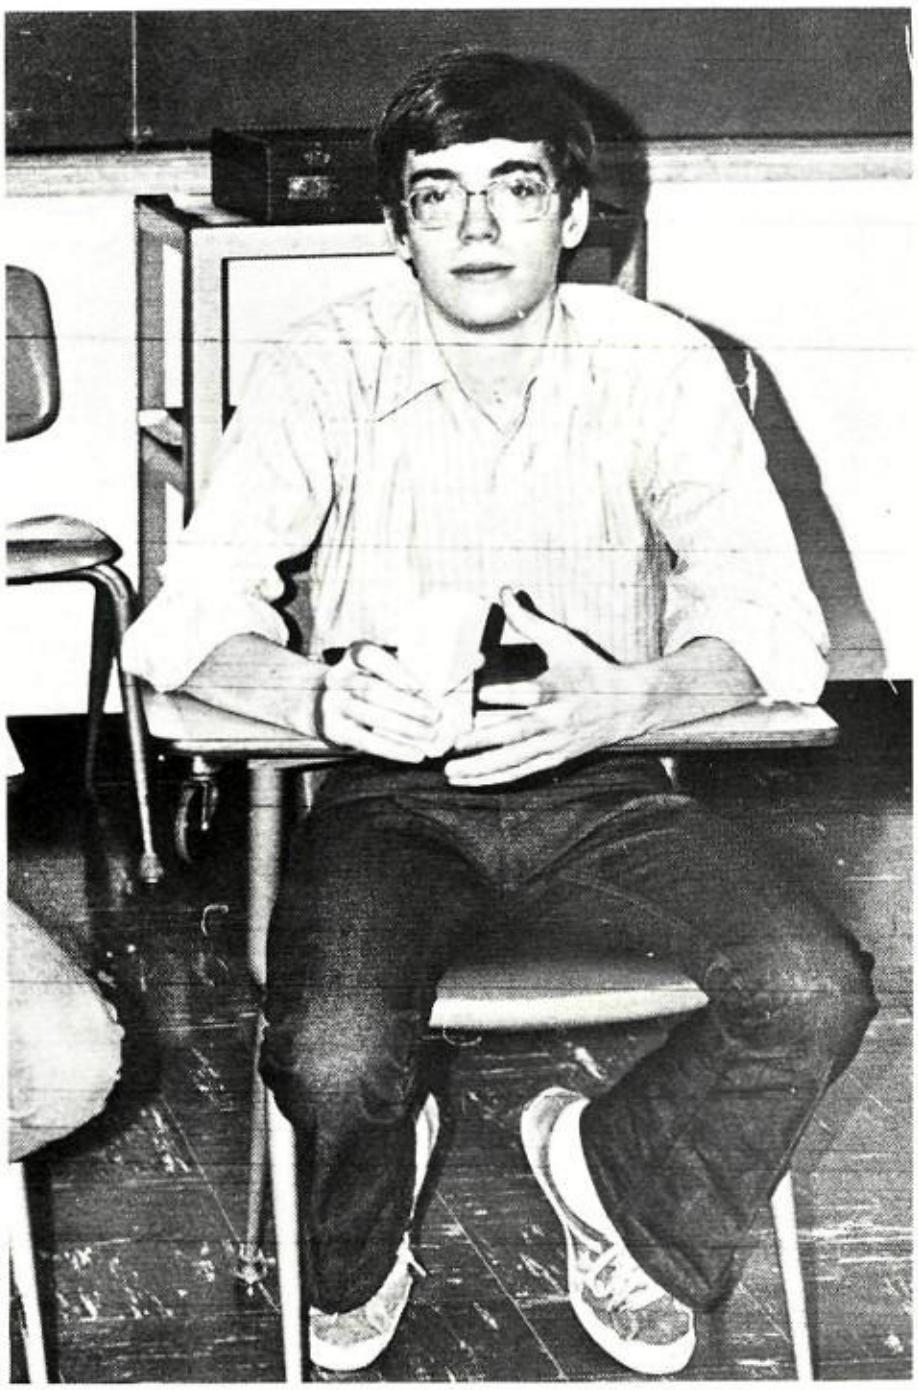
National Honor Society participated in many activities this year. They included a hike at Dolliver Park and a dinner at Ramada Inn before attending the play "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs. Meetings were attempted to be held twice a month. The officers for the club were: President, Rob Warner, Vice-President, Krista Fuller, Secretary, Tina Allen, and Treasurer, Deb Woodard (left). Mr. Phillips, a special speaker from England attempts to explain the differences between England and the U.S. to the club (bottom left). Various members try to decide what should be done on the next meeting (bottom right).

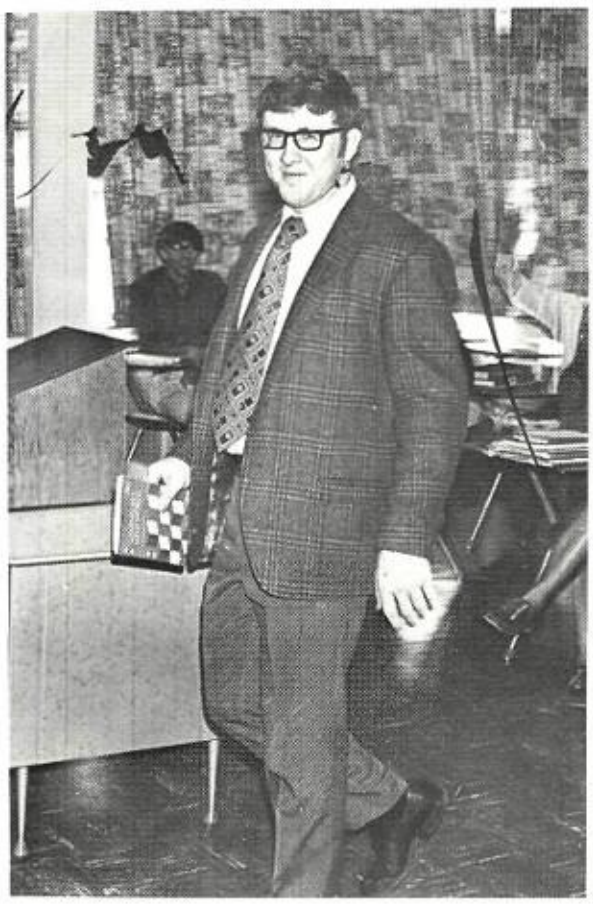


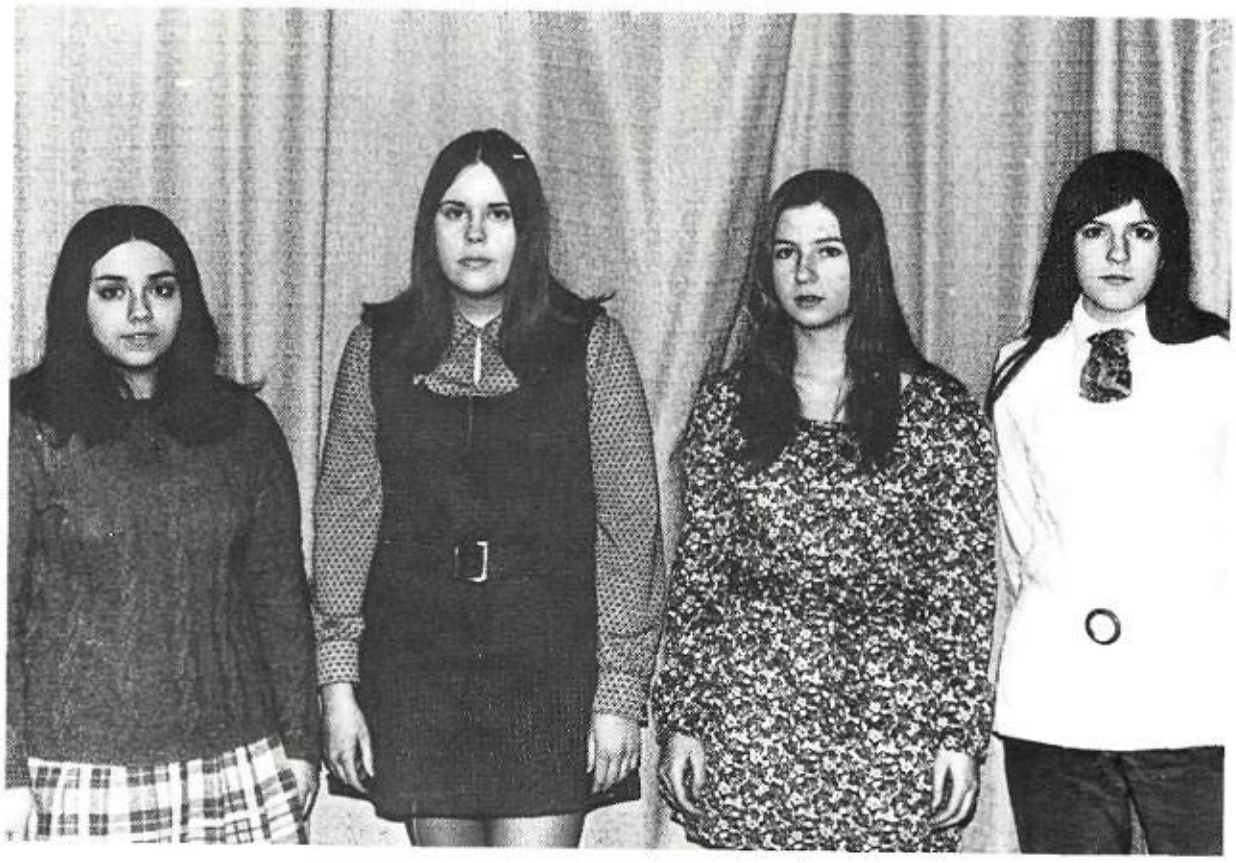
Debaters Have A Busy Year

One of the busiest organization was Debate. After spending many weeks researching the topic, the debaters traveled on various debate trips. In debate there are three different levels. They are varsity cross-examination, second and third year, and novice. Among the various areas in which they partake are radio speaking, original oratory, and extemporaneous speaking. The Dodger debaters were under the new leadership of Mr. Kolling.

C. T. Newsum prepares his response to his opponent's statements (left). Members of the debate team practice with each other before attending a debate meet (bottom left). Mr. Kolling is caught off guard during a debate meeting (bottom right).







Youth Forum attempted to regain its footing after a slow start this year. A change in advisors caused a delay in meetings, but many interesting programs were presented. Among the most notable were Valarie Grimsley's presentations of her past experiences while working at Woodward Mental Institute, and a joint meeting of Youth Forum, NHS, and FTA for a slide presentation, and commentary on life in England by visiting English Professor, Andrew Phillips. Youth Forum was sponsored by Mr. Lisle Townsend and Mr. Robert Hagemann.

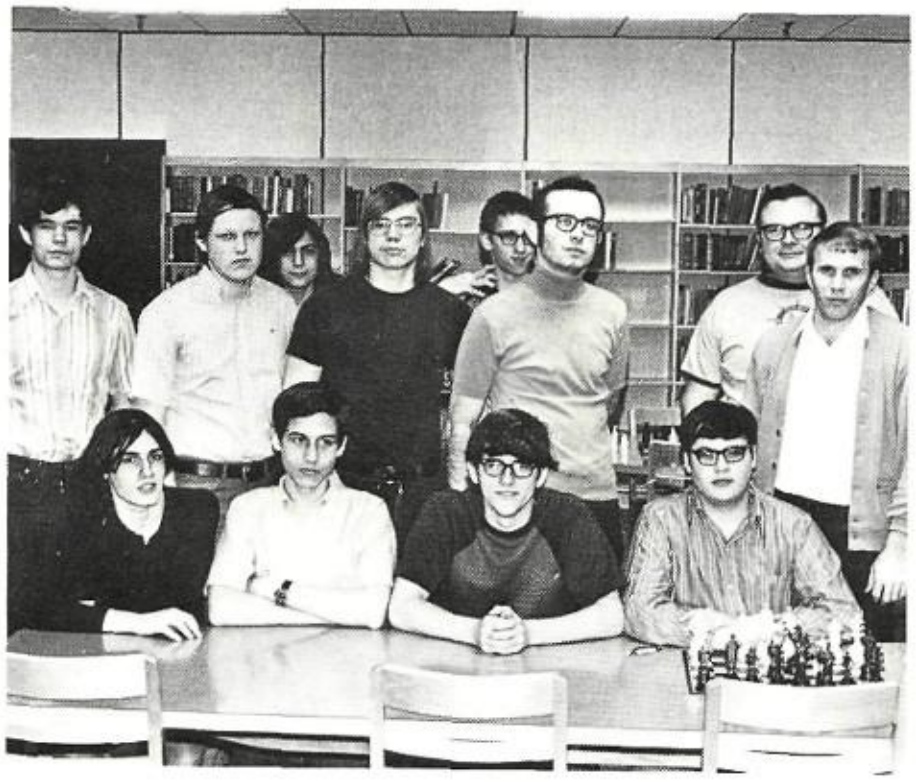
Youth Forum Gains a New Sponsor

Jr. Civitan Helps The Community And A New Chess Club Is Formed



The Junior Civitan Club, advised by Mr. William Lehmkuhl and sponsored by the Fort Dodge Senior Civitans, highlighted their third year of existence with several service projects. The selling of Halloween ghost policies, with the proceeds going to the Free Breadfast Fund of the Urban Ministry, was one such project. Goals for next year include increasing membership, and several new service projects.

The Fort Dodge Senior High Chess Club met for the first time this year. Inspired by the upsurge in popularity of the game in America, the club was organized under the direction of President, Kevin Strauss. Brad Hart was elected Vice-president and Jeff Hepburn was named games-organizer. Membership is open to both students and faculty.

Girls Recreation Association Is Formed

The 1972 yearbook would never have come into existence if not for the vast amount of time and energy donated by Mr. Bill Reynolds, the new sponsor. The staff members he gave aid to were Sharon Bartik, Deb Hoskins, Jim Mosbrucker, Joy Peters, Sherry Isaacson, and Peg Dischler (standing on bridge). Seated are Tom Narigon, Jenny Skogmo, and LuAnn Ackerman.

Standing around the table, as they struggle to meet deadlines, are Krista Fuller, Marianne Woods, Laurie Sears, Melissa McClure, Mike Mulder, and Jane Maiwurm (Bottom).

Big Dodger Struggles with Deadlines

The Little Dodger converted to a new type of printing for the paper for the paper this year. It is offset type. By using this type of printing the entire paper can be printed at the school. The typing classes type the articles and the printing classes publish the paper.

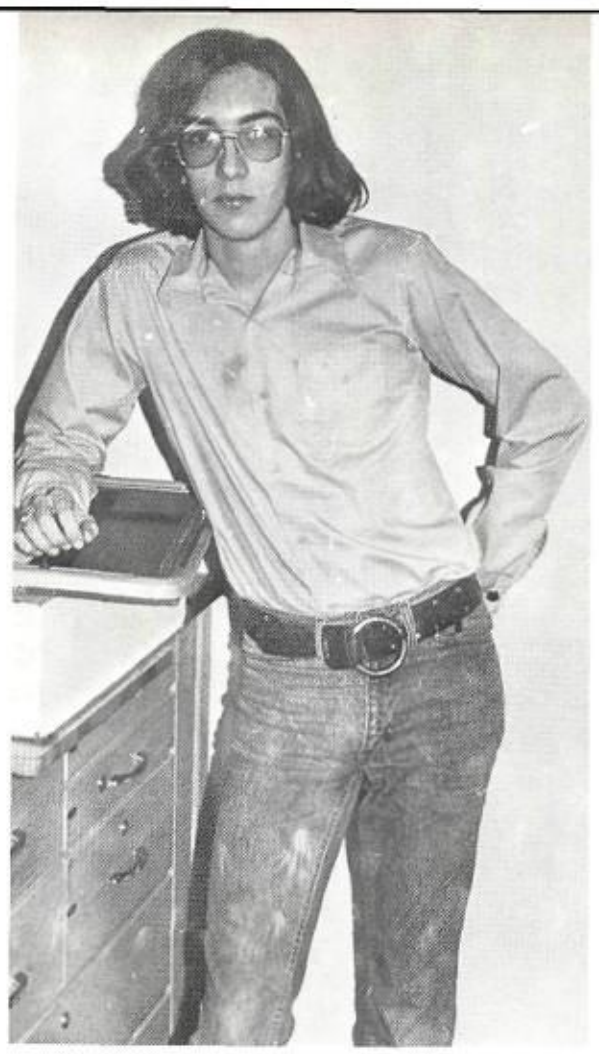
Publication Staff Does Last Minute Work



Many last minute pictures were taken, developed, or just used by both the Little Dodger and the Big Dodger Staffs in order to turn out the best possible paper and yearbook. Tom Narigon, the only three year member of both Big and Little Dodger, always finds time to relax and pose for the camera (top). Jim Mosbrucker develops the latest prints (center). Joy Wiegman and Victoria Thiele decide which picture to use in the faculty section of the yearbook (bottom).

Thespians Win State Honors

The Thespians fulfilled a busy year in 1972. Their first successful play was titled "Seventeenth Summer." Joy Wiegman played the lead role of Angie with Mike Shoopman as her boyfriend. The next successful venture was state contest. The play entitled "The Valiant" received a number one rating with Mike Shoopman receiving a Promising Actor award. Life is what it's all about, and staying alive seems to concern Cindy Williams more than it concerns Steve Smith. (top left) Steve Howard and Jim Bice live for the spring, but a little snow doesn't lower their spirits. (top right) Some people spend their lives as cooks or doctors. Val Grimsley and Cindy Crawford spend their lives as coaches of the first all-girl football team at FDHS. (center) Rosemarie Klingson and Bruce Rusnak enjoy life but Mark Thompson merely looks on. (bottom left) And life goes on with its trials and tribulations. (bottom right)

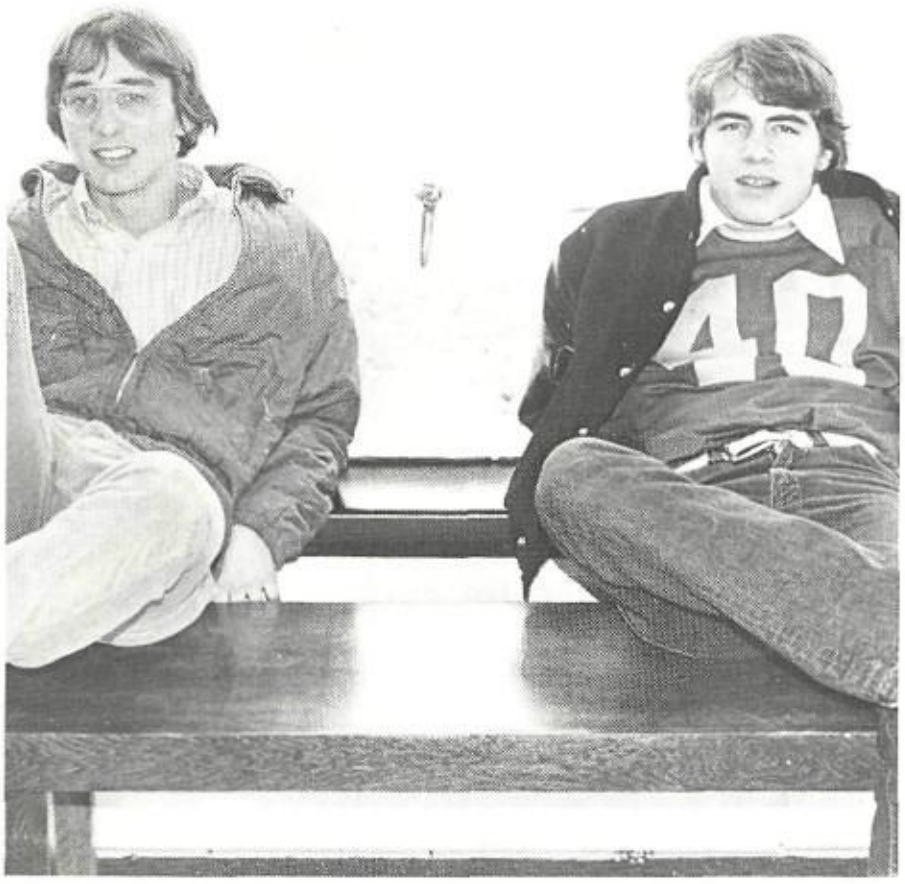
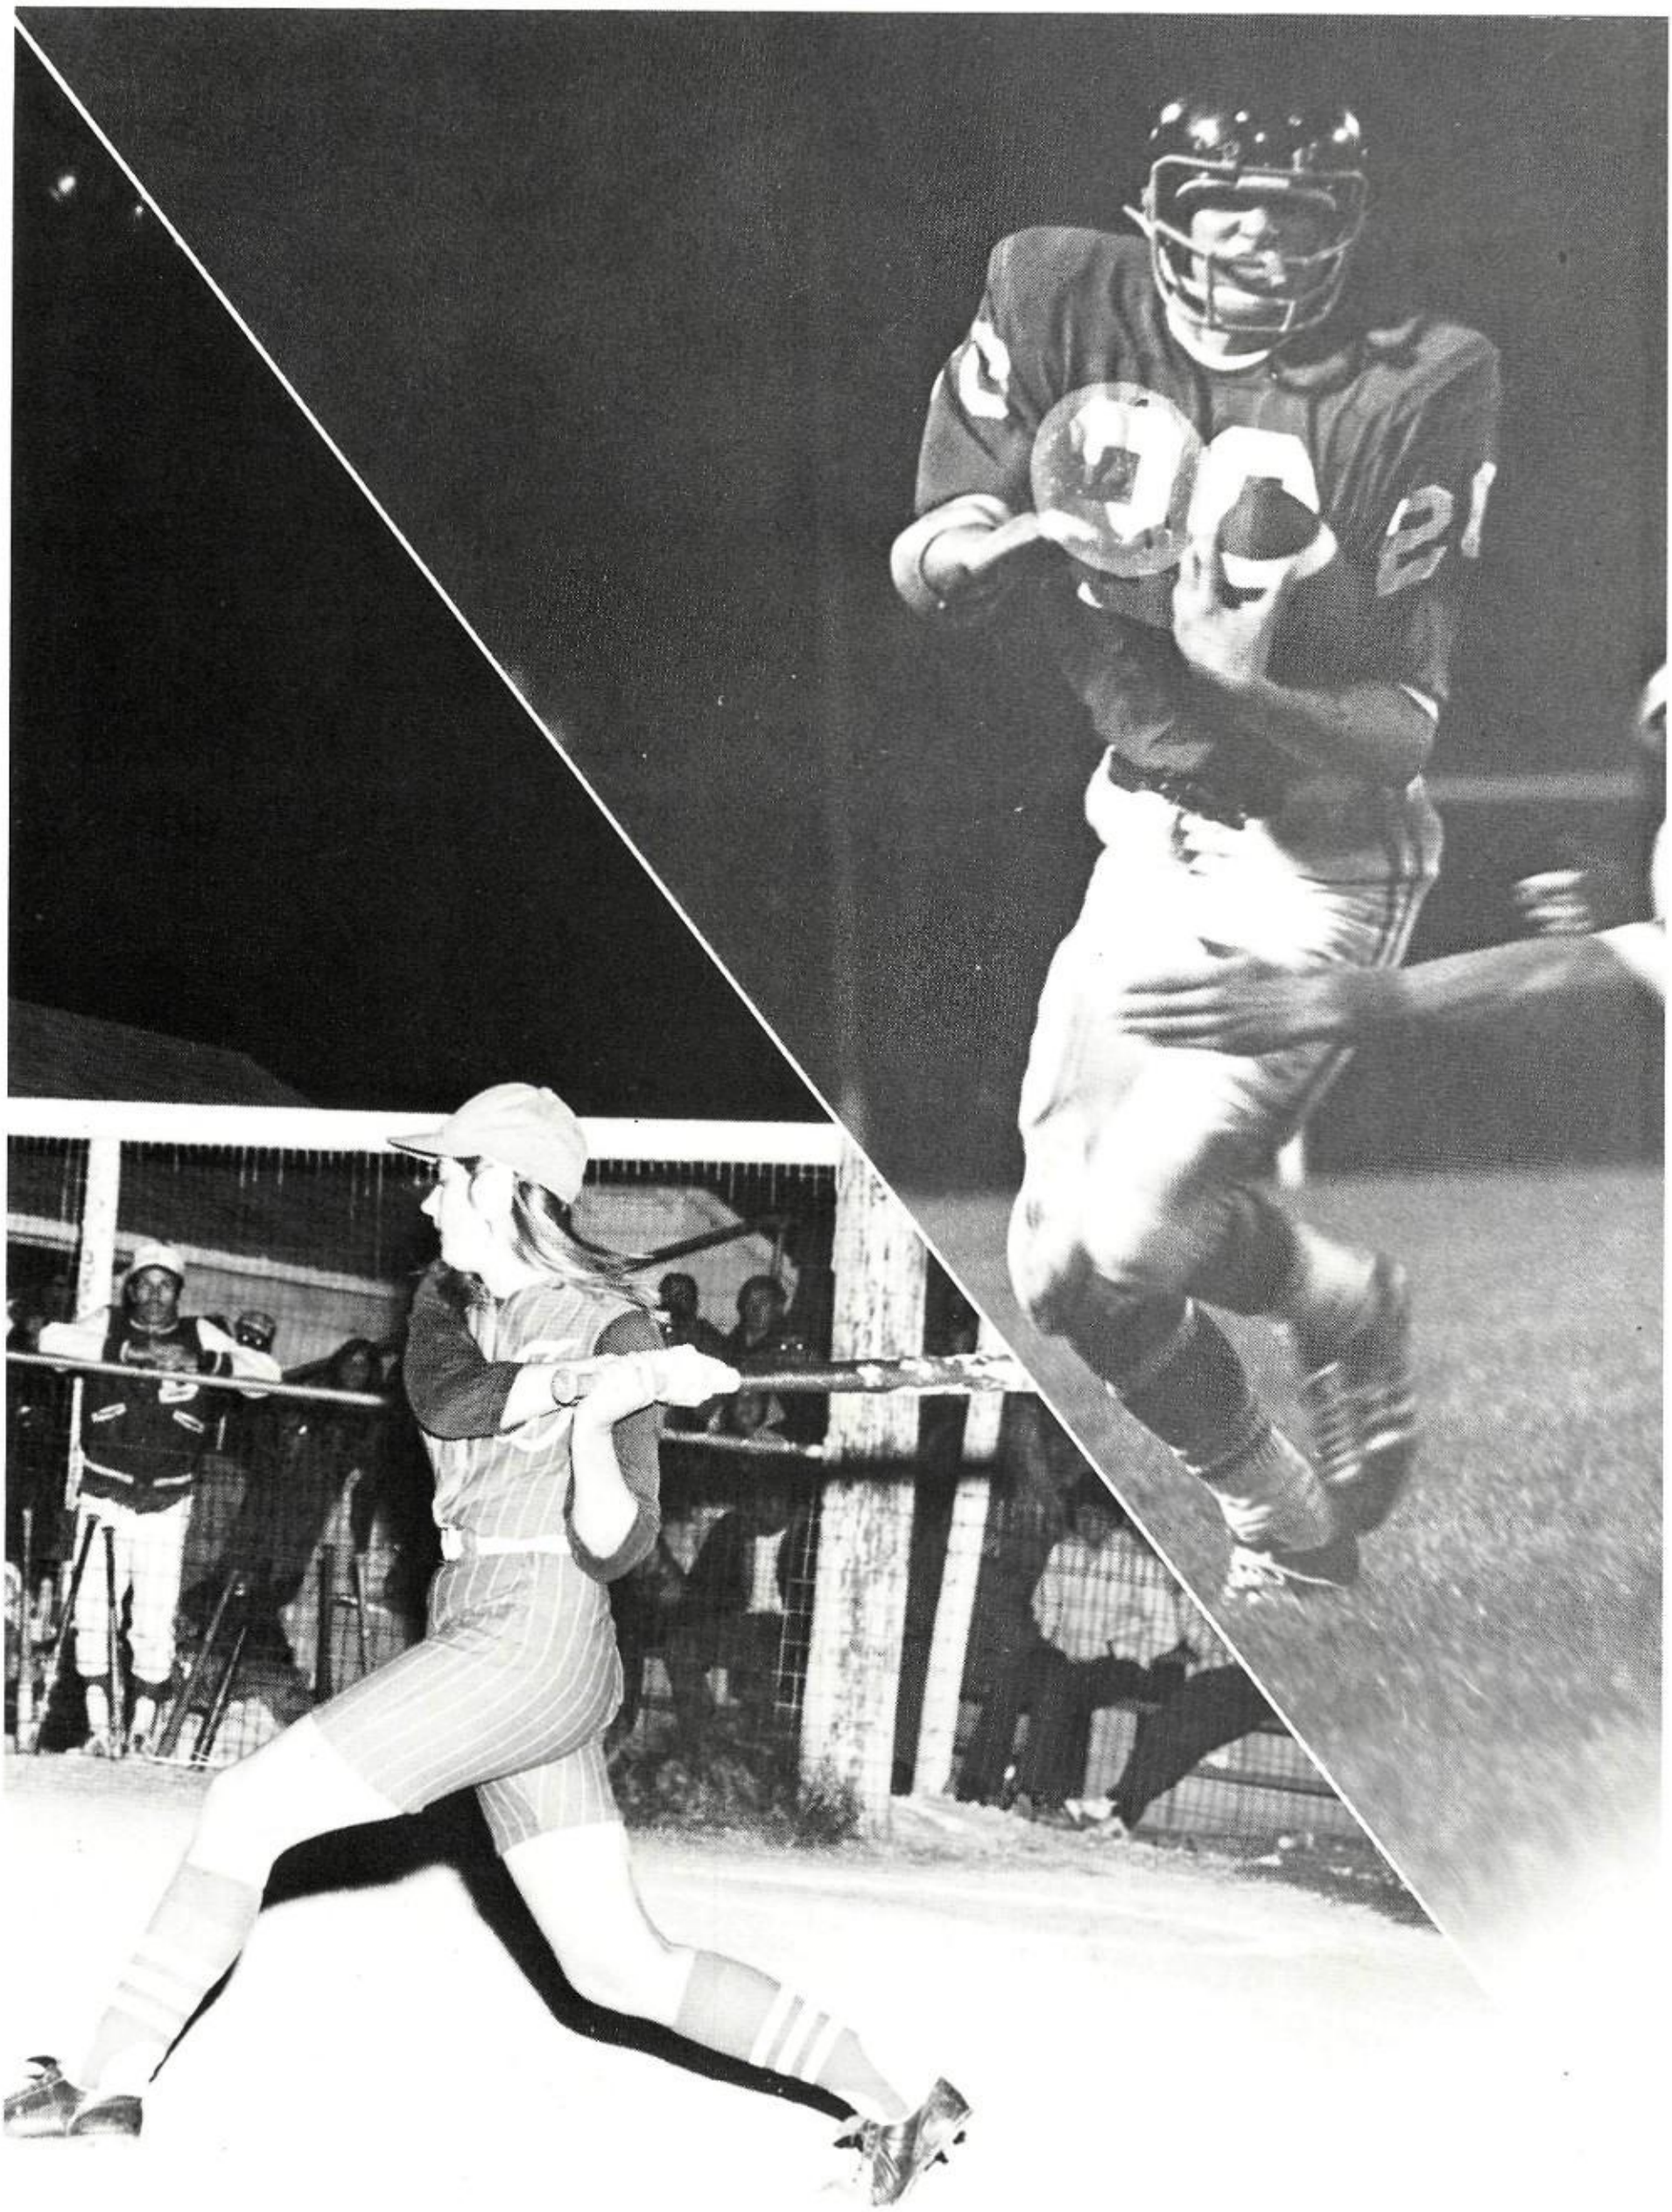
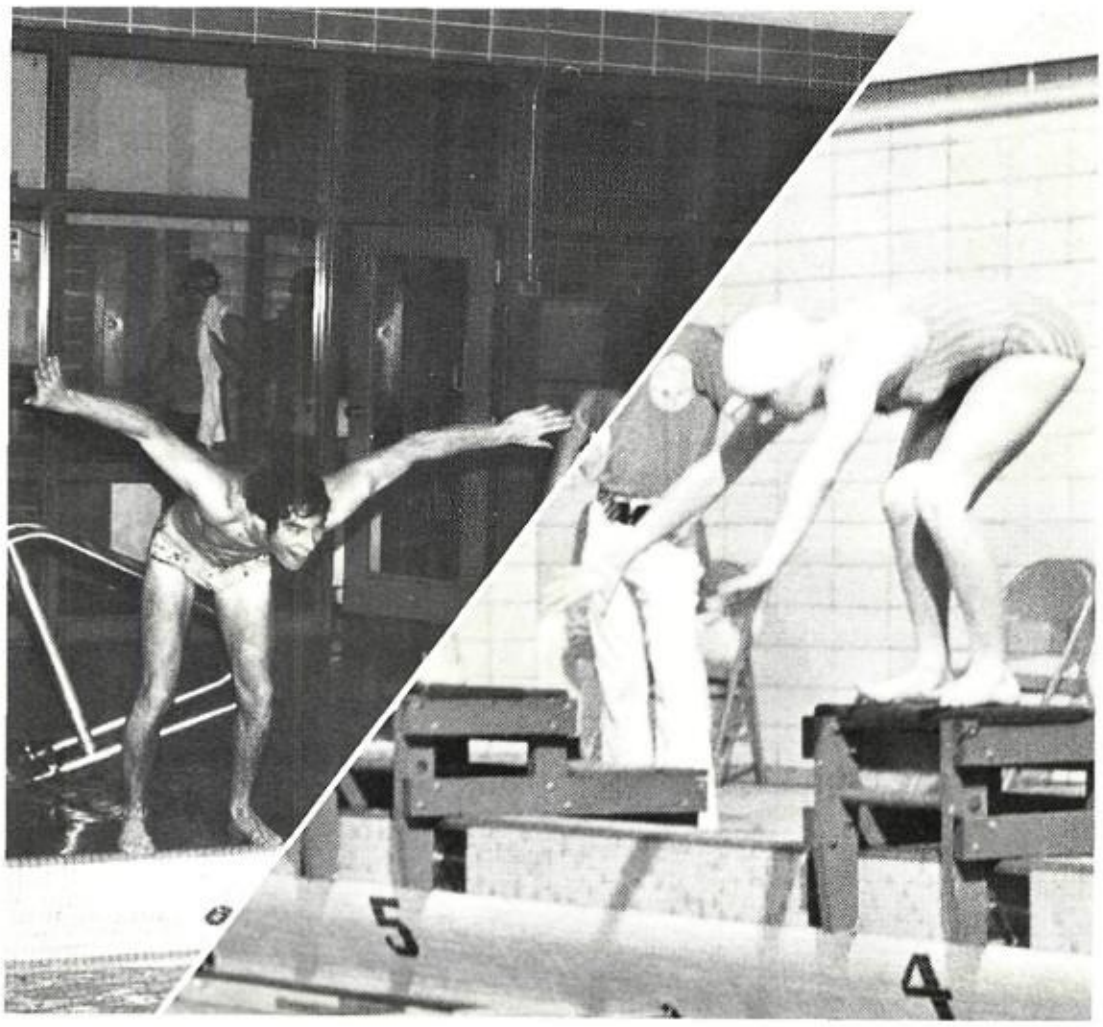
Life is for Living is a temporary condition, which Michelle Higgins is about to pass by, with the help of Dick Robson (top left). Kent Nelson is serving humanity by preventing the sky from falling (top right). Life is where one looks for it, and some find it in music (center). Roxi Eslick seems disturbed, but she knows that life will go on (bottom Left). Life is also just relaxing, and Mike Rice and Terry Miller seem to be living a full life (bottom right).

the Living







Forever we are a team.
We will fight for victory,
grasp opportunity,
and accept defeat.

Our tears of disappointment will be seen, but seldom.

Our cries of enthusiasm will be heard often.

We will carry our pride with us,
wherever we go, whatever we do.

We crossed the bridges as we came to them. Each day we looked forward to the end and at the end we looked back to the beginning. Our problems now seem small, the joys great. We remember these years as a bridge to our futures.
